The family would like to thank you for your presence, sympathy, prayers and sharing, in the fulfillment of Danton's life.

DANTON BURROUGHS

JUNE 21, 1944 — MAY 1, 2008

Drawing by Thomas Yeates. Used by permission.

Danton Burroughs spent a lifetime keeping the Burroughs family legacy alive.

As a child he was thrilled by tales of wonder and imagination as he sat on his famous grandfather's knee.

Since that time, this warm, gentle and generous man carried the torch.

His dedicated life's journey led him to mountain tops and to deep valleys, but always the light he carried guided his path
and never flickered.

He lit the way for others who followed.
The light shone on and inspired countless artists, writers, film makers, and fans
-- in every part of the entertainment world.

The creative flame that Danton so tirelessly protected has flickered a bit with his passing,
but it will never go out -- its brilliance and Danton's memory have touched too many people.

In the famous words of so many of Edgar Rice Burroughs' incredible heroes:

"I Still Live."
